TED TALK

on

"Motivational Video to Stop Making Excuses"

M.Com programme 3rd semester student conducted Ted Talk on No Excuses on 23rd August 2018.

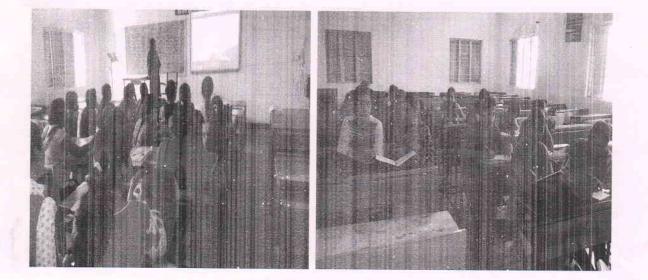

Before you make your next excuse, ask yourself this: What can I do to improve?

Be honest with yourself about what you can do better, and you can free yourself of the blame and the denial that is sure to hold you back. Take responsibility for your actions, and you can live an incredible life of integrity. Make time to create positive momentum, and you will keep moving forward. It is within your power to make big things happen.

In life we our self stops ourselves from doing something, its oneself we stop thinking about doing something in life and to achieve something we stop ourselves that we cannot do anything. We all have the same amount of time as all the achievers had, so we make one or the other reasons to skip from doing and become lazy and we go on complaining about we don't have time to do. If we get jealous by seeing the successful person, its our fault that we did not work hard for getting what we needed. We have to work hard for achieving what we personally need. We always have many excuses to do like we will start from tomorrow, tomorrow not it's the time i.e. we have to do what we are supposed to do it today itself.

Though we have knowledge, skills, time and will power to achieve something we always make excuses to move away from it.

If we want to achieve something in life we need to give concentration and we should not make any excuses to skip away from doing something.
